Colosseo ceramic KM21

Colosseo ceramic KM21

Colosseo ceramic is the latest addition to the Keramik collection, and it is as pure as it is majestic. It draws inspiration from the precious travertine: the typical stone of central Italy used since the ancient Romans. It is no coincidence that the name refers to the most impressive monument of the time made of travertine.

The color of the Colosseo ceramic varies from milky white to walnut, punctuated by warm and soft nuances. Thanks to the most advanced precision techniques, the small cavities typical of the original stone are reproduced with a natural effect, slightly grainy to the touch. This ceramic expresses all its charm when combined with natural woods and metallic finishes in soft colours.
